and drys both praised and denounced the suggestion. In the governor's meeting the notably dry executives sought to have it indorsed as a move toward greater co-operation of the states with the federal government in fighting the demon rum; and the drys, led by Covernor Ritchie of Maryland, railled to prevent such indorsement. Senator Caraway of Arkansas said in Washington that Mr. Wickersham's letter was the "worst blow" ever leveled at prohibition, branding the Volstend act as upenforceable and lending encouragement to the eriminal world, and he insisted that Mr. Wickershum should resign from the chairmanship of the commission. Wet leaders generally agreed with Caraway that the letter was an admission that the dry law could not be enforced, and consequently chuckled contentedly. But representatives of the W. C. T. U. and other dry organizations took the view that it was really a call to duty on the part of such states as have been remiss in tiding in the enforcement of the 13ghteepth amendment. Among the week's developments was a statement from Probibition Commissioner Itoran that he would issue to all probibition administrators a drustle order barring the employment of armed volunteers in liquor raids conducted by federal agents. This is a result of the killing of two Oklahoma farmers allegedly by a volunteer ald of a dry agent.

Magyar Wedding Feast Marriage is a serious affair for boy and girl of the Magyar people, writes a correspondent in the London Telegraph. It is the most important event in the peasants' life. For the girl it is the beginning of her home and family, a comparatively independent status, to the boy the initiation into the council of the men of the clan, Qualit customs mark courtship and marringe. No rings are given or exchanged on hetrothal, but generally handkerchiefs. In some parts of the country the boy proudly wears the betrothal handkerchief on the sleeve, while the girl places a sugar-loaf in the window of her house to tell every passer-by of the event. The wedding day is a village feast provided by the father of the bride, but the best men Issue the invitations personally, the first person invited being, strangely enough, the bride's father. Perhaps a game of stealing the bride will be enacted, or the best men will lead the groom bearing the banner presented to him by the bride, and call on her father to deliver his daughter, who is referred to in flowery language, to this "good Christian young man,"

After the reremony comes the feast, and then dancing, for no Magour festival would be complete with ut the exardas, and her. Purchase of Alaska The United States pold Russia $7,-200,000 for Alaska. There have been rumors for years that part of this money was intended as reimbursement for a naval demonstration by Russia in behalf of the United States during the Civil war at a time when France and Great Britain were showing friendliness to the Confederacy. The State department informs us that on exhaustive search through the department archives by several students rereals to evidence to that effect. The transaction was regular in every way. That the United States may have been more generous because of Russia's felendliness during the Civil war is not Improbable, because Russia artached little importance to Alaska and the United States was hard up for money at the time.-Pathander Maga-

Dust Now Recognized as Powerful Explosive

It is more or less generally well known that all dust accumulations represent a menace of no mean proportions. Dust is explosive and many mills were wrecked by this misterious power before the real cause was understood. In a mine, for instance, the explosion taking place in one chamber was carried to the next and so on Cards of Thanks, 75c. Resolutions of until the explosive force swept through the entire mine and the workings were wrecked completely. It is only within a comparatively few years that It was ascertained that this march of destruction was conducted through the subterranean passages by the accumu lation of dust on the walls and to the crestees. Now this is avoided by a contlog which is sprayed on and which prevents the dust thus treated from exploding. In the case of grain mills the damage done by these mysterious bursts was particularly severe and the government agencies have been giring considerable attention to the study of these mysterious blusts. In the course of some experiments it was found posslide to drive an automobile engine by the use of finely powdered corn dust.

despite our hard luck. But our little South Sen colony passed its first nights uneasity. For sleeping places, we slung hammocks between the palms. At intervals, a coconut would fall from a height of fifty or sixty feet and go whizzing close by a man's head. While our fellow countrymen back in the cities nlong the linine were complaining nhout the night rolds of the French and British bombing squadrons, we had our bombing problem also. It didn't make much difference whether you were hundred on with a failing encount or a fulling bomb. The result was all the same. After one whizzed by your ear, you would very likely go down to the open beach to quiet your nerves. Then It you tried to sleep there, the limit crabs would soon convince you that the beach was no place for a weary war veteran either Patrols of fighting murine crabs would ruld that beach every night. After be ing chased out by the crabs, you would go back to your hammock and lle awake wondering when the next nerial coconut bambardaient would commence. So life during those first days on our tropic isle was not all skittles and heer or orchids and coconut milk. You can bet we worked hard getting up buts! Luckly, there

The first one up was a queer-looking thing, but our architecture improved with practice. Our prisoners, who were all Americans, helped us a great deal They understood the art of pliching tents. They built a special fown for themselves, and gave the streets such names as Broadway, State street, Pennsylvania avenue, and the Bowery. In time we contrived to arrange quite decent dwelling places. Of course, we also installed our wireless set oshore In order to keep in touch with possing ships and events imppening out on this side of the world. Nor did we neglect to take ashore a heavy assemble ed arms and monuntilon, including ritles. Luger platels, hand grenedes, and denamite. In short, we test a perfect little town with everything except a cataboose. (Quoted from Portland Evening News, July 10, 1929)

"As interpreted by State Insurance Commissioner Wilbur D. Spencer, the new motor vehicle operator's liability law . . . means that either the driver of a car must have property or access to means to pay all, judgments, found against him for the offenses prescribed or HE MUST INSURE HIS LIABILI-TY BEFORE AN ACCIDENT, IN SOME LICENSED INSURANCE COM-PANY IN THIS STATE. IF HE DOES NOT DO THIS, HIS PRIVILEGE OF LICENSE WILL BE IN JEOPARDY AND BY LAW MUST BE FOR-FEITED, IN CASE HE IS RESPONSIBLE FOR INJURY TO OTHERS, UNTIL HE CAN EARN THE AMOUNT NECESSARY TO SATISFY THE JUDGMENT AND COSTS. THIS MEANS THAT IN SOME CASES OPER-ATORS WILL NEVER RECOVER THEIR LICENSES. IT MEANS ALSO, THAT THE IMPECUNIOUS OPERATOR MUST PROVIDE SECURITY FOR THE FIRST DAMAGE SUIT FOR WHICH HE IS RESPONSIBLE OR SUF-FER THE CONSEQUENCE, WHICH AMOUNTS IN EFFECT TO A PRAC-TICAL FORM OF COMPULSORY INSURANCE. THIS IS ONE OF THE MOST DRASTIC AUTOMOBILE PROVISIONS IN EFFECT ANYWHERE."

Ignorance of the law is no excuse. Don't be one of those who WILL LOSE THEIR LICENSE FOREVER! BUY YOUR AUTO POLICY NOW! OUR RATES FOR DRIVERS WITHOUT AN ACCIDENT IN LAST 21 MONTHS, ARE ONLY $0.90 FOR MOST 4 CYLINDER CARS, OR $12.15 FOR MOST 6 CYLINDER CARS FOR A SIX MONTHS
